github blocks Baidu spider, how can I make it work again?

3

My website is uploaded into github: http://dyfluid.com. Its chinese.

For a long time, it shows at the top in the first page in Baidu search engine(Biggest Chinese search engine). Suddenly it disappear.

When I type my keywords in Baidu, I got nothing!

Then baidu told me that github blocks baidu spider, this is the problem.

But I did not do anything on github space. How can I fix this?

Thanks very much. Best,

html   github   web-crawler

There's a good chance you can do nothing on your own but use another hosting provider. Or try contacting Github support and see if they can help you resolve this. This is not exactly a technical issue. UPD: maybe a CDN like CloudFlare could make the website Baidu-accessible again. – D-side Mar 22 at 16:47 ✏

Hello D-side, I have no idea what CDN does, but thank to your suggestion, I will try to figure it out. Anyway back to my problem, I dont know the reason why github block baidu spider, its weird. I have contacted with github, but they did not reply me yet. One other thing is: how can I prevent this thing happen again? I used several months to make my website perfect. Then I managed to make it to the at the top in baidu engine. but now it all messed up. I dont wish this thing happen again. Thank for your reply. – Li dongyue Mar 22 at 17:58

I suggest using a CDN as a caching layer, that is not GitHub and doesn't block the crawler in question. You can't really prevent that, it's about interaction of hosting provider and a search engine, they are usually resolved once per pair. If GitHub and Baidu will reach a consensus, you can stay where you are and feel safer than anywhere else. – D-side Mar 22 at 21:01
